3. Textbook & Additional Readings (required)

Textbook
The following textbook is required reading for this course and is available in the bookstore at Western:

Additional Readings
In addition to the above text, students are required to read a set of articles available in the form of links on the course site (under the “Additional Readings” tab). Please ask the instructor if you require assistance in obtaining these course readings. The purpose of these articles is to provide students with the opportunity to read, understand, and appreciate scholarly research papers. These articles will be discussed during the relevant lectures (see the lecture schedule below); students are encouraged to attend lectures in order to receive assistance in understanding these articles.

4. Course Objectives and Format

Course objectives
This course introduces multidisciplinary approaches to human behaviour in organizational settings. Attention will be paid to public and private sector organizations as well as those that operate within a profit and not-for-profit environment. A variety of contemporary issues will be examined from the perspective of the manager as well as those of the worker, the client and the citizen. Accordingly, the major objectives of Management and Organizational Studies 2181 are:

- To provide an overview of the influential theoretical perspectives and research findings in the field of organizational behaviour
- To offer a set of conceptual frameworks, methodological approaches, and analytical skills which are useful in increasing our understanding of human behaviour in organizations
- To provide opportunities to practice the use of these conceptual frameworks through their application to organizational problems
- To challenge the student to think analytically and creatively about significant issues facing organizational stakeholders now and in the future

Course Outcomes
Upon completion of this course, the student will be able to:

- Identify, explain and predict individual behaviour within various workplace situations; recognize and correct workplace situations that are experiencing inadequate levels of employee performance (i.e., those behaviours that can prevent the achievement of organizational goals).
- Recall and apply appropriate evidence-based OB principles that accurately explain and assist in correcting dysfunctional workplace behaviour.
- Memorize and restate, with a high degree of accuracy, specific OB research findings as they apply to the contemporary workplace.
- Compare and contrast between North American cultural values, principles, and theories from those that exist in global markets.
- Describe legal, ethical and socially responsible management practices as they relate to the workplace.
- Evaluate and develop recommendations based on evidence for the type of assistance required from the HR Department to effectively recruit, select and orientate new employees so as to have a ‘better fit’; thus contributing to a more productive workforce.
- Investigate and prescribe which of the motivational theories would be most effective in enhancing employee productivity given certain workplace situations.
Differentiate between the various leadership models; explain the correlation between a leader’s vision/philosophy/values and how such become formalized via organizational design, structure, culture.

Describe the possible distortions of individual behaviour that can occur as a result of working in a strong group environment; especially as it relates to the socialization process.

Understand the internal and external pressures forcing change within organizations; articulate the metamorphosis towards more globalized organizations and the increased need for stronger people-oriented management.

Course format

There are several sections of MOS2181 being taught this semester; although all follow a common curriculum, each operates under a unique format. You must attend the section in which you are registered. The various sections taught by various teachers use diverse methodology/delivery techniques and are NOT interchangeable. It is to your advantage to attend classes only where you are registered.

7. University Policy Regarding Illness

Illness
The University recognizes that a student’s ability to meet his/her academic responsibilities may, on occasion, be impaired by medical illness. Illness may be acute (short term), or it may be chronic (long term), or chronic with acute episodes. The University further recognizes that medical situations are deeply personal and respects the need for privacy and confidentiality in these matters. However, in order to ensure fairness and consistency for all students, academic accommodation for work representing 10% or more of the student’s overall grade in the course shall be granted only in those cases where there is documentation supplied (see below for process) indicating that the student was seriously affected by illness and could not reasonably be expected to meet his/her academic responsibilities.

Documentation shall be submitted, as soon as possible, to the appropriate Dean’s office (the Office of the Dean of the student’s Faculty of registration/home Faculty) together with a request for relief specifying the nature of the accommodation being requested. These documents will be retained in the student’s file, and will be held in confidence in accordance with the University’s Official Student Record Information Privacy Policy http://www.uwo.ca/univsec/pdf/academic_policies/general/privacy.pdf

Once the petition and supporting documents have been received and assessed, appropriate academic accommodation shall be determined by the Dean’s Office in consultation with the student’s instructor(s). Academic accommodation may include extension of deadlines, waiver of attendance requirements for classes/labs/tutorials, arranging Special Exams or Incompletes, re-weighting course requirements, or granting late withdrawals without academic penalty. Academic accommodation shall be granted only where the documentation indicates that the onset, duration and severity of the illness are such that the student could not reasonably be expected to complete his/her academic responsibilities. (Note: it will not be sufficient to provide documentation indicating simply that the student was seen for a medical reason or was ill.)

A form to be completed by off-campus physicians is available at:
http://www.uwo.ca/univsec/pdf/academic_policies/appeals/medicalform.pdf

Whenever possible, students who require academic accommodation should provide notification and documentation in advance of due dates, examinations, etc. Students must follow up with their professors and their Academic Counselling office in a timely manner.

In the case of a final examination in the course, the student must arrange for a Special Examination or Incomplete through their Dean's office, for which you will be required to provide acceptable documentation.

If you feel that you have a medical or personal problem that is interfering with your work, you should contact your instructor and the Faculty Academic Counselling Office as soon as possible. Problems may then be documented and possible arrangements to assist you can be discussed at the time of occurrence rather than on a retroactive basis. In general, retroactive requests for grade revisions on medical or compassionate grounds will not be considered.

Make Up Examinations
The student must write a make-up exam if the regularly scheduled exam is missed for reasons for which adequate documentation is received by the instructor (this documentation must be supplied by the Academic Counseling office).

Attendance
It is expected that students will attend all classes. The professor does not provide access to lecture notes. Students are encouraged to obtain missed lecture notes from a fellow student.

8. University Policy on Cheating and Academic Misconduct

Cheating on exams will not be tolerated; students are referred to the university policy on scholastic offenses. Looking at the test of another student, allowing another student to view your exam, or obtaining information about a test in advance are all examples of cheating. Students found cheating will receive a zero (0%) on that exam. A number of safeguards will be employed to discourage cheating. For example, examination supervisors (proctors) of the tests may ask students to move to another seat during the exam, cover their paper, avert their eyes from other students’ papers, remove baseball caps, etc. This is not meant as a personal affront nor as an accusation of cheating, rather as vigilant attempts at proctoring. A copy of guidelines about how to avoid cheating can be obtained from the office of the Ombudsperson, Room 3135 WSSB, (519) 661-3573, ombuds@uwo.ca.

Students are responsible for understanding the nature of and avoiding the occurrence of plagiarism and other academic offenses. Students are urged to read the section on Scholastic Offenses in the Academic Calendar. Note that such offenses include plagiarism, cheating on an examination, submitting false or fraudulent assignments or credentials, impersonating a candidate, or submitting for credit in any course without the knowledge and approval of the instructor to whom it is submitted, any academic work for which credit has previously been obtained or is being sought in another course in the University or elsewhere. If you are in doubt about whether what you are doing is inappropriate, consult your instructor. A claim that "you didn't know it was wrong" will not be accepted as an excuse.

The penalties for a student guilty of a scholastic offense include refusal of a passing grade in the assignment, refusal of a passing grade in the course, suspension from the University, and expulsion from the University.
9. Procedures For Appealing Academic Evaluations

1. In the first instance, all appeals of a grade must be made to the course instructor (informal consultation).
2. If the student is not satisfied with the decision of the course instructor, a written appeal must be sent to the Undergraduate Chair: Student Affairs of the Department of Management and Organizational Studies.
3. If the response of the Undergraduate Chair is considered unsatisfactory to the student, he/she may then appeal to the Dean of the Faculty in which the course of program was taken.
4. Only after receiving a final decision from the Dean, may a student appeal to the Senate Review Board Academic. A Guide to Appeals is available from the Ombudsperson’s Office.

10. Student Responsibilities

Material covered in lectures will not always be the same as material covered in the textbook. These two sources should be viewed as complimentary and not redundant. As such, students who want to do well in this course are strongly encouraged to attend lectures on a regular basis. Please note that the instructor will not be providing copies of lectures notes or overheads. Therefore, if you miss a lecture, you should try to obtain this material from another student.

In this class, some students may be unaware that their private discussions are distracting to other people. If you feel that students are distracting your attention from the material, then you should ask them to be quiet. If you feel uncomfortable doing this (or the problem persists), then please see the instructor. In addition, please avoid engaging in private discussions with other students during the lectures.

To avoid unnecessary distractions, please arrive to each class on time.

11. Support Services

The Registrar’s office can be accessed for Student Support Services at http://www.registrar.uwo.ca

Student Support Services (including the services provided by the USC listed here) can be reached at: http://westernusc.ca/services/

Student Development Services can be reached at: http://www.sdc.uwo.ca/

Students who are in emotional/mental distress should refer to Mental Health@Western http://www.health.uwo.ca/mental_health/ for a complete list of options about how to obtain help.

12. Other Issues

Grade Policy

The DAN Program has a grade policy which states that for courses in the 2000-2999 range, the class average must fall between 65% and 72% for all sections of a course taught by the same instructor. In very exceptional circumstances only, class averages outside this range may be approved by the Undergraduate Chair or Chair. Class averages are not grounds for appeal.

Short Absences

If you miss a class due to minor illness or other problems, check your course outlines for information regarding attendance requirements and make sure you are not missing a test or exam. Cover any readings and arrange to borrow the missed lectures notes from a classmate.

Extended Absences

If you are absent more than approximately two weeks or if you get too far behind to catch up, you should consider reducing your workload by dropping one or more courses. The Academic Counsellors can help you to consider the alternatives. At your request, they can also keep your instructors informed about your difficulties.

Academic Concerns
If you are in academic difficulty, it is strongly recommended that you see your academic counsellor.

Classroom Polling
For this course, students can provide their personal responses to a variety of polls during lectures using their laptop or mobile phone. The use of classroom polling in this course is for obtaining students’ opinions about various course-related topics and is completely voluntary. That is, the polls will not be marked or scored and will not contribute toward the course grade. Information obtained through the polling will not be used for research purposes.

- Do not wear hats and/or baseball caps to exams
- Do not bring music players, cell phones, beepers, or other electronic devices to exams
